WISHES FROM SUBJECT FACULTY

We often assume that the best time in our lives is yet to come; consequently we miss the fun the present moment is offering to us. Every moment of life is an opportunity and the person who utilizes it wisely becomes the happiest person in the universe, no matter which age group you fall into.
College life is the time when we learn, explore, experiment, and experience many new and unconventional things that remain with us forever. The fun doubles when you become a part of an activity that gives you ample of such opportunities.

From the inception of idea to the final output; the journey of making a magazine is worth mentioning. Though it is a part of course curriculum of Department of FC, these seventeen young energetic and enthusiastic students tried their best to give it a professional look. “Nouveau” is the outcome of their innovative ideas and perseverance.

Nouveau has everything a fashion enthusiast wish to follow. From street fashion to upcoming festivals; from maker culture to latest trends; from Food and Fashion to health and fitness; Nouveau has tried to incorporate fashion and art in each aspect.
As a subject faculty, my role was to show them the path. It is them who set milestones on this path. I congratulate Team NOUVEAU for the successful completion of such a wonderful project. My best wishes are always with them. May they apply the experiences they gained while accomplishing this task in all their future endeavors.
All the best!

EDITOR'S note

The content of this magazine started off as a discussion among a group of fashion and art enthusiasts. A vision – to create the most innovative, authentic, conscious, inspiring entrepreneurial magazine and media movement of the generation. With the help of an extraordinary team, that brought together a collective of like-minded game changers and style makers, we welcome you to the very first edition of Nouveau.

In a world full of imitation, we wanted to bring out to the audience, a piece that would stand out. We seek to break the stereotypes related to fashion and create a magazine inclusive of all the aspects of fashion. In the age of technology nothing can exist in isolation, and so is fashion. Nouveau is a magazine that aims to blend the poise of fashion with the aesthetics of art. Not only is it inclusive of the all-round aspects of fashion, but makes sure to create a canopy under which this inclusive section of the society can flourish. This magazine is made for the young minds who seek to use their skill and talent to harness and bring about a positive change in fashion through their art. Through the sections you will find listicles after listicles of creative, contemporary art pieces, displayed in their extravagant forms.
On behalf of the team of Nouveau, I would open up a gateway and carve out a space for like minded people to grow and flourish.

Adhya Ayushi

I have perceived that majorly two things happen when you live through the epoch of rapid transform, as we are now. The inevitable seethe of artistic creativity and the urge of the scapegoats and the contrarians to express themselves in their own are the two underscores. A mix of the style of the fashion enthusiasts, the trendsetters, and the chaotic, unpredictable welcome of uncertainty by the misfits without fear is what the young generation is thirsty for. Fashion and art go side by side. This symphony of fashion and art March issue of NOUVEAU is dedicated to those people who are the curious fashion culturists spreading the zing of fashion through art and cross-cultures.
We have made an audacious braver move to celebrate the varied new voices fabricated with artistry, awareness, intense felicity through the art of expression drenched with inspiration, idea generation, fashion and fusion. The contrivance we ad-lib, dabbed in mechanism and bounced with technicality is all the way an innovation. I am incredibly proud of what the NOUVEAU team has created and curated on the pages that reflect the new-fangled rostrum contributing art to the era of pensive connoisseurs. This issue is definitely one of the highlights of my career as the Editor-in-chief. Our journey also envelopes the gala of maker-culture, androgynal unconformity, power-dressing and street style forge.

It's been an unstoppable tornado for us as we reimagined every single page and shoot amalgamating fresh thinking, reverse thinking, big bold ideas and newer, diverse inclusive approach. This issue also reintroduces the magnificence of illustrations in the world of creative encroachment. The central trope revolves around 'ULTRAVIOLET', the pantone colour of the year 2018. An anthemic provocative and musing purple shade which communicates authenticity, inventiveness and visionary thinking that directs towards the future. As I write, my inbox is brimming with everyone's memories of making the March NOUVEAU 2016; the relentless hours spent perfecting layouts, making of the hundreds of mood boards, thousands of new-season pieces streaming in and out in our office space, preparing the setups for the photoshoots, sourcing materials from the best of the resources and commemorating the strength of our uniqueness and unity with zeal and zest every single moment. I watched the momentum escalate while we compiled the pages together for the opulence of the vision of fashionistas in between the blue-moon of 20-25 years of age. It was special to give every page such lengthy care and attention which is a juxtaposition of beautiful notions yodelling the role of fashion and art in changeability and utility.

Maker Culture

By : Moumita Nandi

Nevertheless, we get into the world of fast fashion with technology overpowering the era of millennials; we are also able to commemorate the splendour of hands-on-experience and experiential methods to renovate the ramshackle art and creativity. The traditional Indian family is deft with skills of sewing, knitting, stitching, weaving and making items through other rural techniques and impedimenta extracted from the natural resources. It is the signature expression of every individual. Thousands of communities, once contributed to the aeon of slow fashion when things were cobbled together to create prepossessing items for utility. Again, the quintessence of handmade items has permeated into the mores of people giving artistry a new reason to breathe.

Counter trend to hyper consumerism and throwawayism is responsible for the encrustations in the art of living and fashion. Whereas,'co-creation' on the contrary is beautifully translating material intelligence to the mass. For the up to the minute chiliads, “doing is the new buying.” Making vs. consuming is both figuratively and philosophically a concept of identity, originality and the brainchild of creation.Cheers to the current era and generation for “retrieving culture, revolutionizing fashion”! Picking andsplicing various materials from various resources make man-made things look more beautiful lauded with the feel of recycle and reuse.

Cushion covers embellished with raw wool

A BENEFACTION TO THE WORLD OF SLOW FASHION.

This section highlights few hand-woven and hand-made stuffs with use of old fabric, rugged wool and some colourful macramé chords. Simple, eye-catching, user-friendly items conclude one product from home décor and the other one from the accessory range. Decorate your old tattered cushion fabrics with some lightly shimmered raw woollen yarns by the cutting and pasting method. Get the strand of the woollen yarns on your fingertips and make repeats of it for around 30-35 times to make a mini bundle. Then, cut a very small piece of strand from the yarn-ball and with the help of it, tie the bundle together with all the strands at a tip. Cut the strands from the opposite tip to get the ultimate uneven woollen piece for decorating the cushion covers. Make such several pieces and then stick them on the cushion fabric one after the other creating fascinating patterns. Decorate your working space or living area with all the different geometrical shapes from triangle to circle and square and rectangle trended this season with the preppy colours of your choice.

Another one from our basket is the charm derived from weaving. This macramé woven mini handbag and clutch is one of its kind. Take two different coloured macramé chords and braid them together in length. Then, sew the braided strand of macramé by placing it in a loop of any creative pattern. Make the patterns for each handbag in separation so, that they can be joined again for the complete look of a handbag. After making the patterned pieces, again, join them from the outer edge by sewing them together and leaving space for the handbag to open. Lastly, put a tip-tap button or chain of same colour in the left-open part for proper utility of the product. Be on cloud nine to grab all the attention at your get-togethers with these little masterpieces of your own origination!

Androgyny

A NEW WAVE OF OLD NOTION

Trend defies social norms and strongly questions the social and cultural construct that our society

By : Anushreeta Jaiswal

With a tremendous emphasis on things like what should be categorised as 'feminine' to what is essentially the man's job, our society has always given great importance to sticking to the social norm. We are all struggling to be unique and the most unique thing we can be is ourselves. Imagine a world without restrictions, a world where gender was not a defining concept. Androgynous fashion is the newest trend on the radar and is all set to become one of the most path-breaking trends to hit the runway. Not just affecting the fashion industry, this trend defies social norms and strongly questions the social and cultural construct that our society inherently holds. With its underlining commentary on where the society is headed, the whole idea of androgyny in fashion is 'gender blending'!

The hustle of androgyny is not something which has popped out of nowhere in the middle of dessert. It has been around us since we were liberated by Coco Channel through the revolutionary introduction of 'Pants' and masculine-like silhouette for women in 1913. Some designers have always challenged us to defy the social norms and think out of the box or say 'to never be in any box'. Men also took turn in loosening their gender tropes and constrains. By 1960's we saw a new wave in men's fashion where they adopted a more feminine silhouette. They grew their hair long, borrowed makeup from women, dabbled in tight, all largely to explore and assert their individuality. The only way forward is to adapt ourselves to the changing circumstances.

“She can beat me BUT she can’t beat my Outfit”

- Rihanna

Here’s to celebrating the woman who succeeded in distinct personal style simply by understanding what made her unique and embracing who she knew herself to be. Having a sense of what looks good on you starts with how you see yourself and no one can prove it better than Rihanna.

By: Adhya Ayushi

Someday there may be a course in the way she has pretty much rewritten every rule book about the relationship between celebrities and design. The Barbadian musical artist who has, it seems, officially made the transition from fashion plate to fashion force in a mere three-year time after being crowned a “fashion icon” by the Council of Fashion Designers of America.

Rihanna being the prodigy that she is, has used many social media platforms to speak to her audience at a global level. She has made sure that her voice is taken seriously. She uses music ingeniously and subtly to expresses her voice. But the thing which has caught our attention most is the way she communicates herself through her fashion, because of course that's what fashion icons do right? She tells us captivating stories about herself and the world through the boldness and the beauty of the clothes that she embodies.

Whether it's the simple white Stella McCartney floor length dress she wore at the Met Gala, a vision of Hollywood glamour mixed with a hard edge chic look, or her 80's Banjee girl moment in a cartoonish jacket with a Cleopatra wig that she wore at a fashion show in Paris. Rihanna speaks to her fans through her every look, and what she says to them is that its ok fun to feel a little boyish one day and dress like a dazzling diva the next. The point is to be audacious, while remaining true to yourself. She proves that incredible style can help take an incredibly talented young woman from a small island, to the world stage and along the way spark a lot of conversation about elegance and empowerment.

WE THOUGHT SO.

Keep it classy.

TRAVEL IN STYLE AND COMFORT THIS SEASON!

By Soni Kumari

Getting the opportunity to travel the world during life is a great experience. Real travel is not just about seeing new things, but also about seeing things with a new refreshed perspective. It takes you out of your comfort zone, away from all your mundane activities and also shape and develop you into a mature person who knows what is going on around you.

Opt for wrinkle-free fabrics
Choose loose, breathable fabrics to stay comfortable all day. Knit fabrics are great for travelling, as they wear well and can also be rolled up in your luggage. Spandex blend fabrics are also wrinkle-free and will keep their shape longer than 100% cotton. Synthetic fibres are a good choice as well, especially if you choose something that wicks away moisture.

Pick one of your favourite outfits
Choosing one of your favourite outfits will help you feel confident when traveling. Your favourite outfit is also likely pretty comfortable, or it wouldn't be your favourite. Girls should pair maxi dress with a cute jacket. They're easy to move around in and are also chic. Alternatively, opt for leggings, a long top, and a fun scarf.

Choose comfortable shoes
Pick a pair of shoes that are comfortable and go well with your outfit. You should never wear new shoes on a trip. Break them in first to avoid blisters or other issues. Wear slip-on shoes or shoes you can take off easily. This is especially true if you are flying to your destination, as you may have to take your shoes off in the airport for security reasons.

Take a bag that gives you freedom.
Finally, it's suggested to stay away from bags or accessories with hardware such as studs, and chains. They can weigh down a purse – too heavy, and you want to travel light. Also, you don't want to be swinging them around in a packed plane because the hardware may get scratched, or worse, you could knock someone out.

Two apps you can't travel without!
Evernote, to capture any inspired thought that comes from a customer or from the world around me, and Facebook.

FASHION ILLUSTRATION: LOVE OR REBOUND?

Is fashion illustration no longer the poor relation between art and fashion which stands the test of time or could it be that this love affair is just on rebound? By Aakanksha

Mankind desire of capturing the look around him takes us back to era long before the days when fashion came into recognition, when the first illustration was scrawled on the walls of some prehistoric cave. For the past centuries, fashion illustration has been the major source of fashion information and offers a unique visual account of the history of fashion. The vintage editions of famed magazines featured the illustrated visions of the eminent fashion designers of that era elaborating far more detailed stories than we get today.

But by the advent of photography trend, it got sidelined as old fashioned, challenging its reason for existence. Despite this, the fashion illustration seems to be making a comeback into popular culture, showing up more frequently in magazines. These days, fashion illustration is appreciated by a more social savy audience who are looking for something different. So, as it is regaining the position in the public spotlight, is fashion illustration no longer the poor relation between art and fashion which stands the test of time or could it be that this love affair is just on rebound?

WITH-IT TRENDING

The new collection of fashion illustration beautifully represents the ultra-violet trend of this season with the shades of violet. The collection tells a story depicting prominent prints and silhouettes which are in vogue this season.

LINGERIE TO FLAUNT

PUT THE THRILL BACK INTO YOUR UNDERWEAR!

A glimpse of one's bra used to be considered risqué, but not anymore. This season, slide into a sizzling lingerie set and see where the night takes you!

By: Yashswee Sinha
Model: Rajeeta Prasad
Photographed by: Yashswee Sinha & Atul

From feminine to over-the-top mesmerism, the season's hottest lacy looks will lick up your confidence like nothing else. Bras with pretty straps and lace running in trend are making women wear them under sheer or cropped tops. Strappy bras are literally everywhere in lingerie shops and boutiques.

Edginess meets sweet floral details in the diaphanous, strappy design. Intricate detailing and decorative seams in triangle bras bring out the sensuality out of every crazy soul and uplift the pulchritude. Fabrics like Italian silks, chiffons, satin and velvet are extremely popular these days. Velvet is also taking over the pace with grace and warmth.

Creating a sense of feminine decadence, blush pink lingerie is so trending this season while white lingerie…it's the fresh cherry on the cake for a flirty look!

Bra, bralettes and bodysuits all covered with pretty little floral appliques are the must haves for the spell in abundance this time.

The quotidian charm of athleisure dominating the fashion world for quite some time is now one of the spotted delight with its sports bra on height in the amazeballs of lingerie trends.

Lingerie tip: If you want to invest in just one sexy lingerie piece this season, make it a bodysuit! Wear something so provocative that balance incredibly saturated hues and delicate lace.

THE STORY OF FUTURE

CONTEMPLATING THE MYSTERIES OF UNFATHOMABLE CREATION, TEMPT OF WHAT LIES AHEAD, AND DISCOVERIES BEYOND WHERE WE ARE NOW, PANTONE – 18 – 3838, ULTRAVIOLET, IS THE FRESH OPTIMISTIC SCREAM FOR 2018.

By Anushreeta Jaiswal and Sapna Chourasia

It's the colour of passion, the hue directing future. The colour of authenticity, the symbol of possibilities; complex and contemplative, ULTRAVIOLET is the royal love for counterculture, unconventionality and artistic brilliance. Beauty begins with the moment one believes in the phenomenal potential of oneself. Here, is the story of the season's noteworthy and sensational colour ULTRAVIOLET in its most majestic and creative mien.

DROP DEAD DELIGHT

Here, comes about the PANTONE colour of the year with all its vigour and temptation in the world of fashion. Perfectly quoted by Laurie Pressman, Vice President of the Pantone Colour Institute, "The Pantone Colour of the Year has come to mean so much more than 'what's trending' in the world of design; it's truly a reflection of what's needed in our world today" delivers the message of introducing ULTRAVIOLET in all the global forecasts in context to colour trends, companies and brand identities, palette recommendations and strategic assets. Over a decade of pantone colours of the years with 'greenery', 'rose quartz and serenity', 'marsala', 'radiant orchid', 'emerald', 'tangerine tango', 'honeysuckle', 'turquoise', 'mimosa', 'blue iris', and 'chill pepper'; ULTRAVIOLET has now written its story with the global brands to leverage the power, psychology and emotion of colour in their design strategy. Get your own reflective look with all in ultraviolet keeping it simple with a one-piece dress, a light-weighted scarf and your eyebrows highlighted with the quintessence of the colour.

UNHACKNEYED EXPERIMENTS

Let's crack the code of spurring individuals imagining their unique mark on the world. Let's commemorate the enthusiasm of irony to present what is instant in mind. The purple-toned lighting ULTRAVIOLET is all over you again to open the mystic doors of unbelievable countenance that your life has even not thought of eventually. Every surprise element is minutely present in the macrocosm with intriguing details and engrossing elements. These elements are dropped down in the notches of a person's lifetime treasure trove with power packs of curiosity, excitement, drama, wilderness, originality, exploration, potentials, experimentation, non-conformity and a lot of uncertainty. Happiness not only counts to the regularity we dwell in but, in the breaks and cracks of rhythmic strains and chords that gives us a better grounding to deeper introspection of our knowledge pool. So, celebrate all that you have as ULTRAVIOLET again inspires us since ages to live life extensively.

PIPE DREAMER

The flow of spontaneous dreams is not going to help one chase the ultimate. The final call is what one gives oneself coming out of all the ease and comfort zones. Be the "happy feet" of your own choice recreating, rediscovering and renaturing all your art of credence and secrets. What's ok and what's not, be yourself to decide and take a step ahead of time. The chains of dreams can make one a pipe dreamer, but don't get yourself chained with a fine line of acceptance as one can do more than that. Cover a lot of beautiful journeys with success and gleeful memories on the memorandum of a world much fascinated with colours and customs. Get up, gear up and move! It's all that ULTRAVIOLET says in a wink with mindfulness practices and bringing out "THE YOU" within the bars that you yourself have surrounded with.

Model : Aakanksha Vats

INTRA MURAL PASSION

All that is interlinked and entwined with experiences, is passion! The passion to explore. The passion to dream. The passion to drown oneself into the feel of intimacy with ones' soul and mind in balance. The passion to be self and dedicated. It's all about ones' inner conviction that pops out the baby of assertiveness, winning the challenges of life with aplomb. Time sweeps within a snap but passion grows with each and every twinge that we take in life. Memoirs from the burning past, chronicles of the present and the futuristic pomp that has to be recorded on the shimmering pages of future are all the part of the same book – the book of intramural passion. ULTRAVIOLET, a dramatically provocative sizzle of the year 2018 vocalize this tune of passion with the craziest innovation of the contemporary aeon.

Hope to grab the opportunity! Hope to get yourself featured in the impeccable thesaurus of life! Hope to keep dreaming in the long run! Hope to leave your signature mark on the imprints of sociability! Hope to celebrate each and everyday devoid of compunction! Hopes and hopes and hopes; all lie down in the same lane of anticipation. Never take a step back to dream a bit less, to fly on cloud nine of all your hopes with an ingenuine believe of making a remarkable self-singularity. Peep through the shrubs of aspirations, breathe through the loopholes of betterment, survive for the grandiloquence of existence as life narrates a story at every step. Nevertheless, one feels down with all the negativities trending around at different phases throughout the lifetime, believe in hope as the umbilical chord for nourishment and oxygen. ULTRAVIOLET is that placenta implanting the right way of what is yet to come.

GET THE GLITTER BUG

IF THERE WAS ONE BEAUTY TREND THAT TRULY DOMINATED ALL FOUR FASHION WEEKS, IT WAS MAKE-UP ARTISTS' OBSESSION WITH ALL THINGS SPARKLY, SHIMMERY AND SHINY. GLITTERY EYELIDS WERE ON SHOW AT TOPSHOP. THERE WERE EVEN GLITTER LIPS AT SHRIMPS. SPRING/SUMMER 2018 IS ALL ABOUT SPARKLE.

TRADITIONALLY, EYELINER FLICKS ARE CONSIDERED MORE OF AN AUTUMN/WINTER BEAUTY LOOK. BUT FOR SPRING/SUMMER 2018, UPDATED TAKES ON THE CAT-EYE WERE SEEN ACROSS THE BOARD.

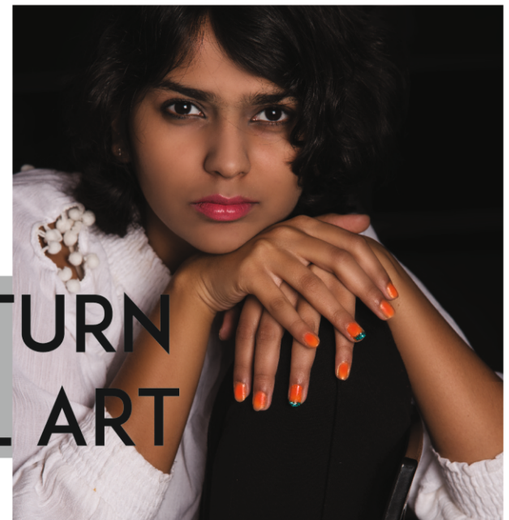
THE MODERN CAT EYE

Another fashion month is over, another set of beauty trends to start thinking about now. And one thing is sure, spring/summer 2018 is going to be a great season for beauty. From glittering, shimmering, rhinestone-studded make-up across New York, London, Milan and Paris, to the best hair accessories to add to your wish list and the return of nail art, see spring/summer 2018's biggest beauty trends here.

SUMMER'S LIP TONES ARE A BRIGHT AND BEAUTIFUL ARRAY OF PERKY PINKS AND REDS RANGING FROM CORAL TO TOMATO TO RASPBERRY AND CHERRY. USING A HUGE RANGE OF CHERRY-POP SHADES TO SUIT EACH GIRL.

CHERRY POP LIPS

THE RETURN OF NAIL ART



HAIR AND MAKE-UP OFTEN TAKE THE FOCUS BACKSTAGE, BUT NAIL ART WAS BACK IN FULL FORCE FOR THE NEW SEASON. IF YOU HAVE A STEADY HAND, TRY TO RECREATE THE PETAL-ADORNED NAILS CREATED USING DEBORAH LIPPMANN.

The fashion icon BOLLYWOOD NEEDS?

By: Adhya Ayushi

"Fashion is an expression of what you're feeling"

-Ranveer Singh

Ranveer Singh has become synonymous with everything that doesn't fit into the conventional aspect of fashion in India. In an industry, where leading men cling to ideas of masculinity, Ranveer has worn shiny shirts, crazy prints, florals, skirts, dhoti pants, and outfits that even the most accomplished fashion bloggers struggle to find names. When you type 'Ranveer Singh' and 'fashion' into Google, you come across various outfits that describe his "crazy", "whacky", "shocking" sartorial choices. We can't imagine a scenario where being "dressed like a condom" could ever mean good things for a person, but Ranveer Singh is no longer someone you can apply these rules to. Ranveer Singh and his clothes, both on and off the red carpet, have provided us with endless memes on the social media than any other person, and kept the fashion police in business.

Ranveer Singh knows that the more he is out there the more he is going to be remembered. The fact that none of his peers are doing anything remotely close helps him stand out even more. However, if we ever care to venture into his childhood we see that he had always been a flamboyant person eager to express himself through styles that the world deems unconventional.

Ranveer as we all know is not a people pleaser, rather it is his own personality that makes his style work for him. He understands that no matter what you wear, people will have an opinion, and so he has moved past the phase. He's created an image, cultivated it and it's a part of him. Ranveer Singh's fashion has made people have a very strong visual memory of him. We cannot say it is positive, we cannot say it is negative, but we can say that it leaves a mark.

Powerdressing Made Easy

Over 40 years subsequent of the birth of power dressing, it still holds the same power in the world of fashion. Yet it has evolved with the times. It still serves the same purpose – to ensure women dress with confidence – but the rules have definitely changed.

By Aakanksha

When it comes to creating an effortless wardrobe, sometimes it's the simplest ideas that are the best. The first step to dressing sharp is to choose the right shade and stay up to date with the colours that are trending. Gone are the days where basics like black, grey, and white used to be a thing. Power dressing could be made more interesting with a very different approach by playing with primary colors.

By keeping a monochrome shade in the looks, it becomes more classy and artsy, consisting of shoulder padded trench coats with wide legged pants paired with combat boots. The laptop bag and bold sunglasses add weight to the whole look. To soften the typically masculine look with a pop of femininity, the earrings can been used. .

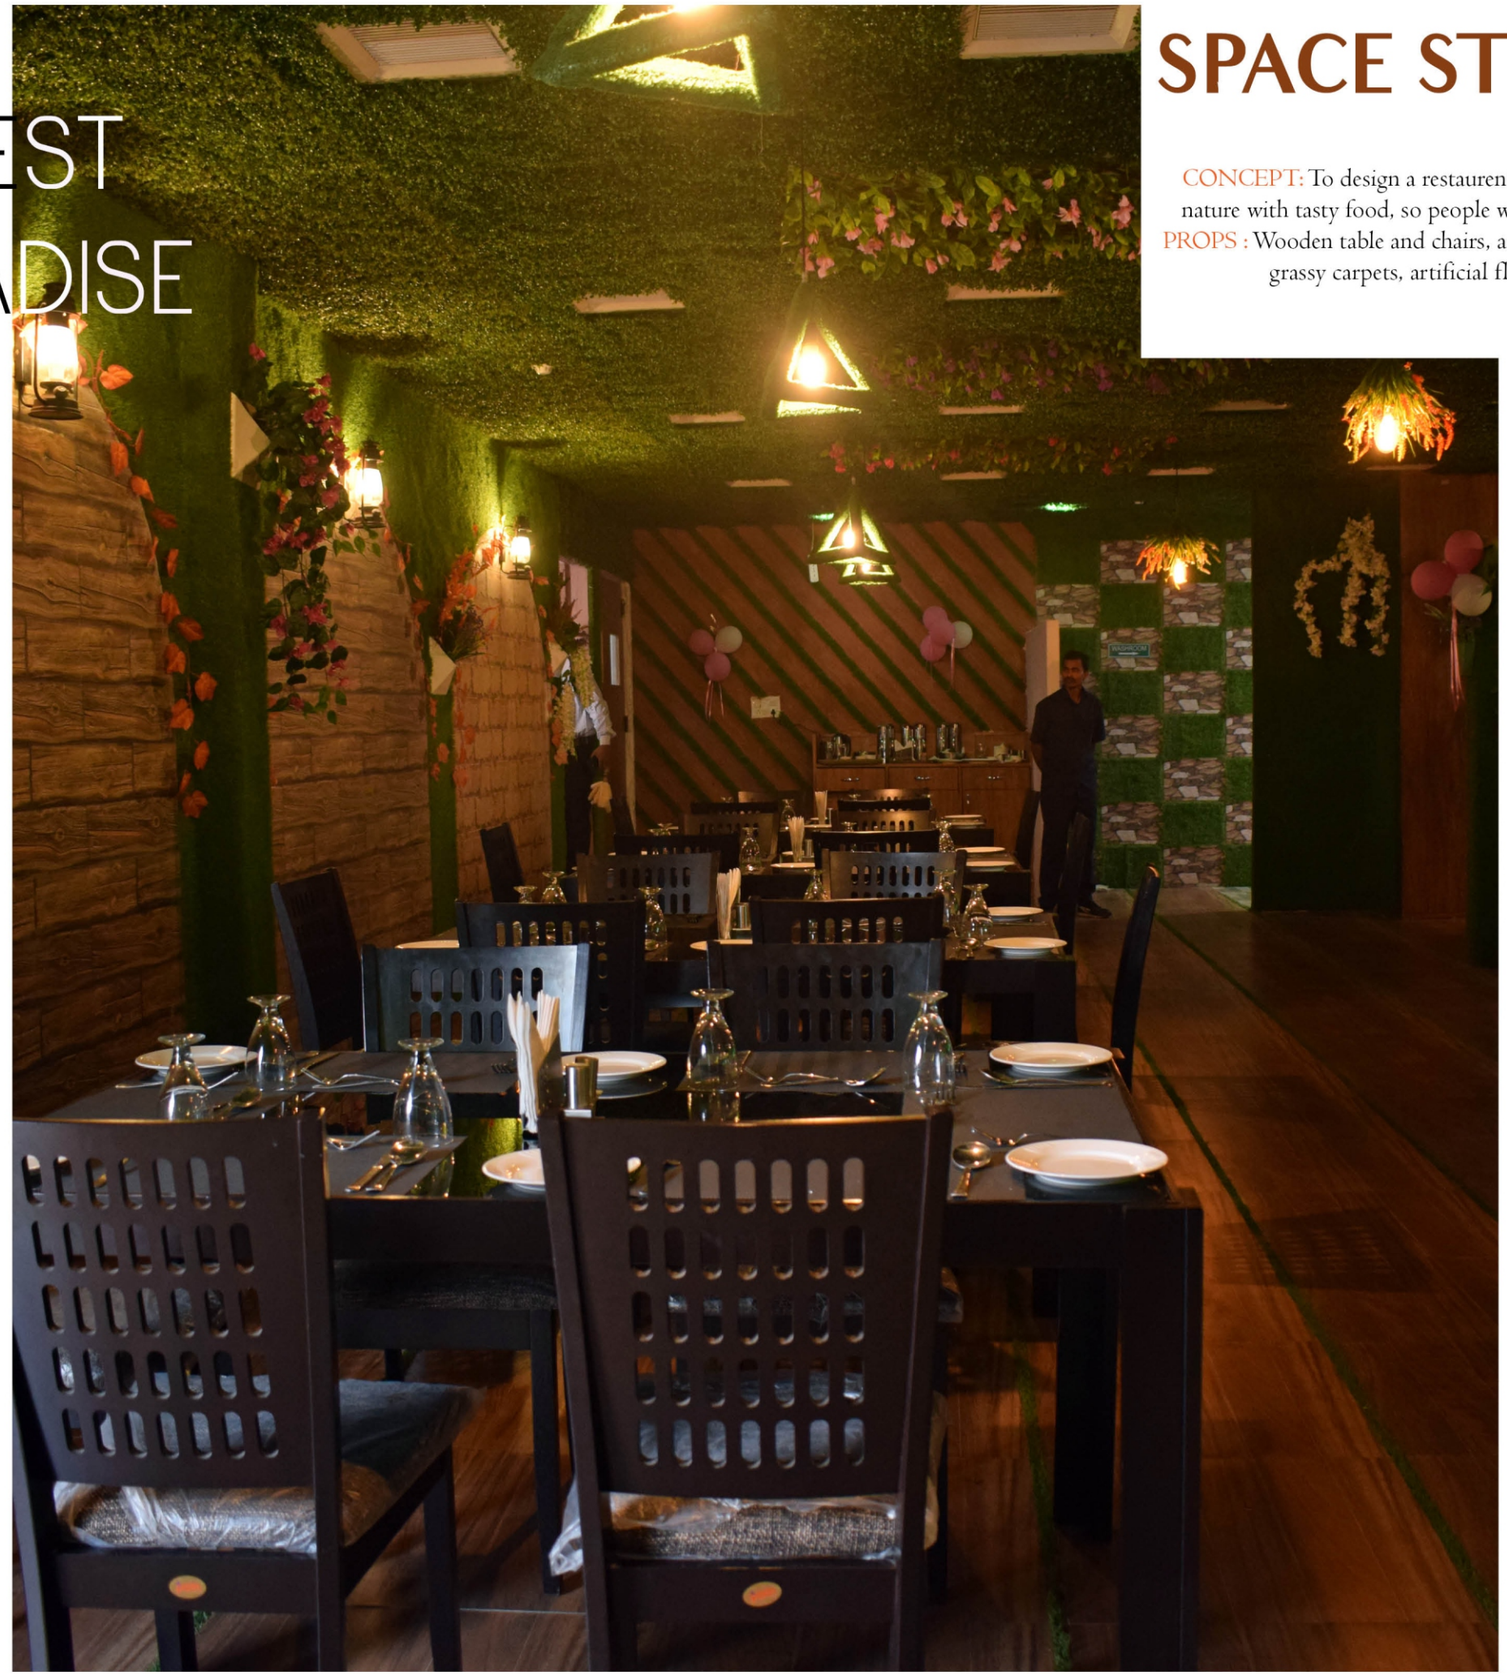
Experience grandeur and utmost elegance when you visit The Cafe Green Eye, a 24 hours coffee shop located on the ground floor serves delicious Indian, Continental and Asian cuisine. It is a fusion of Global & Indian menu and ambiance, yet making it a very chic and modern style cafe. The décor at Café Green Eye is gorgeous and creates an atmosphere that is casual and cool. Particular impressive was the lobby with its high ceilings. It is wonderfully comfortably and spacious. It has high ceilings and open doorways that give it an airy feel. Decorated in a Polynesian tropical theme it has lush vertical green walls, and its low-rise perspective creates an oasis of calm and tranquility. There is both indoor and outdoor seating at the café. Consequently, the café is a blend of east meets west, with both an Asian and a more classical French menu. The Asian menu itself is a fusion of inspirations, drawing on dishes from over the globe and all cooked with an Indian touch. The beautiful green tops makes is a spectacular spot to knock back some mocktails!

CAFÉ GREEN EYE

THE FOREST PARADISE



SPACE STYLING

CONCEPT: To design a restaurent which will give the feel of nature with tasty food, so people will forget all the stress here.
PROPS : Wooden table and chairs, artificial leaves, lanterns, green grassy carpets, artificial flowers, spot lights.

The new spot to feel the love like being in the lap of nature with finger-licking delicacies is The Foresto Paradise which is making its customers go crazy at the Nutan Plaza at the heart of Patna, The Dakbungalow Road. This restaurant has been designed to create an atmosphere where you can feel the perfect green forest with an open terrace area. This restaurant is also the first in Patna with this kind of theme and interior. The space is segregated into three separate areas to look more intimate andcosy; yet it does not lose the space by covering the area unnecessarily. Customers are free to sit anywhere within the premise. The seating points are separated into three different areas. The cottage cabin area, terrace area and the hall area.

The inspiration of 'The Forest' had some special requirements that were kept in mind while designing the space. The entire space is beautiful, warm with natural ambience, cosy and intimate at the same time. The use of various textures, from the green grass like carpet to the wooden walls, from the vintage lantern lighting to the modern cocktail glasses and furniture, all contribute by and large in creating a mood of the forest. As for the food, some of the special dishes are Paneer tikka and Chicken Pakoda as well as some absolute delights also include Gulab Jamun, Kulcha Platter, etc.

TIME TO SHOW AFFECTION

Tips to protect you during Holi

Fun with colours is must at the festival of Holi. But let the fun not cost your hair and skin to damage. Here are some tips to protect your hair and skin from the colours. So unleash youself out and indulge yourself into the joy and excitement!

HAIR
1. Apply serum or protectant after your hair is washed and dried. Use organic colours to play Holi, they are less damaging and are equally colourful.
2. Wear a cap, scarf or cover your hair with a bandana. If possible wear a plastic shower cap under your cap.that is the most helpful.
3. No blow drying after wash on Holi, let your hair dry up naturally.
4.After playing with dry colours, brush your hair well. It will take out most of the colour while brushing only. But this works only in dry colours.
5.Don't leave your hair open, tie it in a ponytail or make a bun. Open hair soaks more colours and scalp also gets affected when it's open.

SKIN
1.Oiling in places like behind the ear, between finger tips, near finger nails is very important
2.Dry skin allows chemicals to penetrate easily so ALWAYS oil the whole body.
3.Wear full sleeved tops and pants to cover up as much skin as possible and reduce skin exposure.
4.Keep drinking plenty of water or clear fluids to keep yourself and your skin hydrated.
5.Immediately take a bath with lukewarm water using a mild shampoo as well as a gentle face and body cleanser.

THIS MONTH, TRY THIS DIY LOOK

REQUIRMENT- one loose t-shirt(white), 4 m fabric of satin(black), some safety pins and black boots.

Put on white t- shirt, stretch it to make the front around your bust and make some pleats at the middle as shown in the picture.
Now for lower, drape it with the help of safety pins, take both part of fabric and pin it at left hand side and make the pleats under the left thigh. Now you will get this look after putting boots in your legs as cheery on the cake.

FOR ANOTHER LOOK

Put on white t-shirt, stretch on sleeve and put the sleeves inside and make it one shoulder top. Then tie the knots on left hand side.
Now, for the trouser, bring the fabric, put it on the right shoulder and pin up at the bottom. Now bring the rest of the fabric and tie up on the left leg and roll rest of the fabric around the left hand from the waist.

LOVE AT FIRST BITE !

Hey! Are you ready for some mouth-watering delicacies?

By Sonali Ranjan, Photographed by Sonali & Yashswee

Street food, whether sweet or savoury, fiery or mild, is eaten by all and it's not unknown for there to be lively debate amongst friends and family about which is the best. Where once the food from a 'kiosk' may have been a greasy burger or a hot dog, now you enjoy Dosas, , Burritos, Tacos and more. Street food is renowned for being at the forefront of food innovation and its popularity has exploded in recent years. Its transient nature means it can keep up with ever-changing consumer demand for new flavours, textures and winning combinations – some great, such the rise of momos & masala corn.

Let's start with "Love at first bite", take a look around and get a smell of the flavours coming from the local marketplace, food cart and food truck. This year, street food is set to get a lot more sophisticated. Regional cuisine is what the people are demanding now. A visit to Mumbai isn't complete without sampling vada pav: a well-loved fried potato patty served in a bun with a variety of condiments. .

3. dosa DELIGHT

For those in Kolkata, the egg roll is a staple part of the diet, made by wrapping a fried egg inside a paratha and serving with a chutney or dipping sauce. There's also the jhaal muri: a popular puffed rice and vegetable snack, with a similar version known as bhelpuri found on Mumbai's beaches.

4. SPICY BHEL

5. VEG PUFF

People typically prefer sweet desserts over savoury ones. Personally, your go-to dessert is anything chocolate related. But sometimes you just have to change your attitude, and once you try this savoury dessert, you'll never want to go back to those heavy, sugary desserts. The greatest part about these savoury desserts is that you can eat them any time of day and not feel weird about it. It's incredible!
Savoury desserts have been taking hold for a while but this trend shows no sign of slowing. They will continue to dominate menus in 2018 as more and more chefs look to incorporate new ingredients into their dessert offerings.

ROUAHFZA RUM

Tangy apples add a savouring flavour to the rouahfza rum that would leave your mouth wanting for more...

BACK TO BASICS

Fitness trends come and go every year, but we're going back to the basics in 2018! The yoga wheel will be more popular than ever because there are so many styles, and yoga trends are constantly changing which gets people excited. It may not look like much, but the yoga wheel as one of 2018's hottest workout props.

Group exercise classes with minimal equipments have surged in popularity. More simple things like body weight exercises, lunges, pushups and planks will get the centre stage. If there is equipment, it is likely to be minimal, such as weights, body bars, kettle bells or jump-ropes.While consumers have had a taste of functional fitness in 2017, it is going to grow big in 2018. Functional fitness is the term that best describes the workout that provides strength to do everyday work. These workouts let you train yourself for the everyday chores and tasks that require your actual strength. It improves coordination, balance endurance and many other things in the body, leading you to lead a healthy life.

The current trends have literally changed the way we have always looked at Yoga. It has become more interactive and focused to solve the fitness problems and health issues of an individual. One can definitely merge vacation and yoga together. The perfect package of relaxation is the yoga retreat vacations. Yoga enthusiasts love the idea of enjoying yoga at the best vacation spots in the world. The idea behind this variation of yoga is to bring together the best of yoga and the fun factor of vacations to provide the best experiences to people. More and more people and athletes are participating in yoga based therapies to recover from and prevent injuries as well as treat ailments from allergies to cancer. Yoga is powerful for healing - both the mind and body. It provides a coping mechanism for stress, sadness and grief. Yoga opens up the mind, body and spirit. It literally can heal your body.

THE BEST
SUMMER MAKEUP TREND
FOR YOUR ZODIAC SIGN

With big heart and lots of love to give, Pisces are extremely kind and compassionate soul. Selfless, friendly, faithful, and caring are the traits which Pisces possess. They are known to be most tolerant of all zodiac signs. They amaze people with the uncanny ability to predict things. They are escapists and dreamers and tend to be visionaries who do things in a whole new way.

Artistically minded, the Piscean woman will veer towards melted tones across her fashion and beauty style, that reflect the shades of the sea, so soft grey or lavender shades this season. Show minimal skin with your outfit by opting for embroidered shirt and flared pants. Go for shimmery, shiny and reflective accessory like the hoop earring. Piscean girl can rock in nude makeup and detailed eyebrows like none other!

Sure, you could choose your makeup look based on your celebrity inspiration, skin tone, or whatever most recently caught your eye on your Instagram feed. Or you could take it to a whole new level of personalization by tailoring it to your astrological sign and coming up with a completely artsy look. Ahead, see what it looks like when you choose the latter.
